9. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1. Lectures are held according to the schedule provided by the Dean's Office.
2. The person responsible for teaching the course – Course Coordinator: Dr Ewa Skrzypek, MD, PhD; e-mail: ewa.skrzypek@wum.edu.pl
3. The use of mobile phones and any other recording devices during lectures is strictly prohibited.
4. Students are required to arrive for lectures punctually.
5. Attendance at all lectures is compulsory. In order to justify an absence from classes, the student is required to notify the course coordinator by e-mail or in writing no later than three working days after the day on which the classes took place. Submission of a justification after this deadline is permitted only in serious exceptional circumstances where the student is unable to provide the document for justified reasons; in such cases, the justification must be submitted immediately after those circumstances have ceased. A medical certificate justifying the absence must be submitted to the course coordinator within 7 (seven) working days from the date on which the certificate was issued. In the case of any absence, the method of making up for the missed work must be agreed with the course coordinator.
6. The remaining rules governing participation in classes and the final completion of the course will be presented and discussed in detail during the first lecture.
7. Students who passed the course in previous years and wish to have it recognised in the current academic year must obtain the Dean's approval for the transfer of the course credit. If such approval is granted, a copy of the approval together with an official transcript from the Dean's Office of the relevant university and from the academic year in which the course was completed must be sent to ewa.skrzypek@wum.edu.pl no later than two weeks before the start of classes. Failure to submit these documents within the specified time limit will require the student to complete the course again and pass it in accordance with the syllabus.
8. The course is passed on the basis of:
 - a. attendance at lectures; two or more absences preclude passing the course.
 - b. active participation in lectures and conscientious completion of all tasks assigned by the course coordinator.
 - c. obtaining a passing grade on the final test.
9. If a student receives a failing grade for the course assessment, the student is entitled to two re-sit assessment dates.
10. In order to justify failure to take the assessment on the scheduled date, the student is required to notify the course coordinator by e-mail or in writing no later than three working days after that date. Submission of a justification after this deadline is permitted only in serious exceptional circumstances where the student is unable to provide the document for justified reasons; in such cases, the justification must be submitted immediately after those circumstances have ceased. A medical certificate justifying the absence must be submitted to the course coordinator within 7 (seven) working days from the date on which the certificate was issued.
11. Failure to justify absence from the scheduled assessment constitutes grounds for failing the course on that assessment date. In such a case, the student is entitled only to two re-sit assessment dates. If the absence from the assessment is properly justified as described above, the student retains the right to a first assessment on a date and in a form determined by the course coordinator, followed, if necessary, by two additional re-sit assessment dates on dates and in forms determined by the course coordinator.
12. The Dean may grant permission for a committee assessment if justified objections are raised regarding the conduct of the final re-sit assessment.
13. The programme of classes may be subject to minor modifications.
14. Consultation hours with the course coordinator, where necessary, are arranged individually following prior contact by e-mail or in person during lectures.
15. In matters not regulated above, the provisions of the current Study Regulations of the Medical University of Warsaw shall apply. Every student is required to familiarise themselves with these Regulations before the start of classes.

Medical University of Warsaw has property rights, including copyright, to the syllabus. The syllabus may be used for educational purposes at the MUW only. Using of the syllabus for other purposes requires consent of the MUW.

ATTENTION
